

Cornish Crosses - Understanding the evidence

C3529083

with Andrew Langdon

In Cornwall there are over six hundred medieval stone crosses and fragments from the late ninth century through to the Reformation. This course will introduce these iconic and rustic monuments. Their age, original function, decoration and context will be explored, along with their geographic and decorative groups. The course will identify the many types of Cornish cross including, churchyard, wayside and boundary crosses together with their related sculpture.

Tuesday 30th January -

20th March 2018

7 sessions, 2pm - 4pm

No session 13th February

WEA Cornwall Office

47 Lemon Street

Truro TR1 2NS

Fee £52

enrolonline.wea.org.uk

0300 303 3464

(8.00 am to 8.00pm, Monday to Friday and 8.00am to 1.00pm Saturdays local rate).

@WEASouthWest

Education & Skills
Funding Agency

European Union European Social Fund

The Workers' Educational Association (WEA) is a charity registered in England and Wales (number 112775) and in Scotland (number SC039239) and a company limited by guarantee registered in England and Wales (number 2806910). Registered Office: Workers' Educational Association, 4 Luke Street, London, EC2A 4XW.