

SCRUB BASHING!

Managing Monuments in Mid Cornwall

Cornwall Archaeological Unit is organising a series of volunteer scrub clearance sessions this winter, to help improve the condition and management of a small group of important Scheduled Monuments. The sites include King Arthur's Hall on Bodmin Moor, Prideaux Hillfort, set above the lovely Luxulyan valley and the Neolithic Castilly henge.

The provisional timetable is below. Sessions will normally be from 10.30 - 3.30.

- Bring lunch and a drink
- Wear tough waterproof clothing and shoes
- Some tools will be provided, but please bring sturdy gloves and if you have a favourite pair of loppers, pruning saw, or secateurs that you would like to use, please do bring them.

We will confirm details of each session, including meeting places, closer to the time.
